

A SECOND LEADING INDEPENDENT PROXY ADVISORY FIRM GLASS LEWIS RECOMMENDS CIGNA SHAREHOLDERS VOTE “FOR” ACQUISITION OF EXPRESS SCRIPTS

Glass Lewis Joins ISS in Recommending Cigna Shareholders Vote for the Express Scripts Acquisition

Cigna Reminds Shareholders to Vote “FOR” the Transformative Combination Today

BLOOMFIELD, Conn., August 13, 2018 – Cigna Corporation (NYSE: CI) (“Cigna” or the “Company”) announced that independent proxy advisory firm Glass Lewis & Co. (“Glass Lewis”) has joined Institutional Shareholder Services (“ISS”) in recommending that Cigna shareholders vote to approve the proposed acquisition of Express Scripts (NASDAQ: ESRX) at the Company’s upcoming special meeting scheduled for August 24, 2018.

“We welcome the favorable recommendations from both Glass Lewis and ISS as momentum continues to build in support of our merger with Express Scripts,” said David M. Cordani, Cigna President and Chief Executive Officer. “Their recommendations underscore the significant shareholder value that this transformative merger will deliver in a highly dynamic market environment.”

As support for its favorable recommendation, Glass Lewis noted the following:

- “...[W]e find the proposed merger both strategically and financially compelling, structured in a reasonable manner from a valuation standpoint for Cigna shareholders.”
- “The merger represents an attractive opportunity to create a more diverse and integrated business model in the evolving health care services industry which will be better positioned to serve consumers, adapt to competitive and structural challenges, respond to regulatory changes, capitalize on growth opportunities and potentially realize significant incremental cost savings and operational efficiencies.”
- “Factoring in the significant synergy potential and earnings accretion forecasted by Cigna, we believe the merger represents an attractive value proposition for Cigna and its shareholders.”
- “We also have confidence in the combined management team to navigate the evolving health care industry while drawing upon their transaction integration experience with the objective of delivering accretive returns for shareholders.”
- “Based on these factors, along with the support of the board, we believe the proposed stock issuance for the merger is in the best interests of shareholders.”

The Cigna Board of Directors encourages Cigna shareholders to vote “FOR” the proposal to adopt the merger agreement at the special meeting.

Cigna’s special meeting of shareholders is scheduled to take place on Friday, August 24, 2018, at 9:30 a.m., Eastern Time. Cigna shareholders of record at the close of business on July 10, 2018 will be entitled to vote at the special meeting.

FORWARD LOOKING STATEMENTS

Information included or incorporated by reference in this communication, and information which may be contained in other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") and press releases or other public statements, contains or may contain forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements include, among other things, statements of plans, objectives, expectations (financial or otherwise) or intentions, including statements concerning the potential future performance of Cigna, Express Scripts, or the combined company, the potential for new laws or regulations, or any impact of any such new laws or regulations, including on the business of Cigna, Express Scripts or the combined company, the ability to achieve the anticipated benefits of the proposed merger, on the expected timeline or at all, the timeline for deleveraging the combined company, and the ability to consummate the proposed merger, on the anticipated timeline or at all, and other statements regarding the parties' future beliefs, expectations, plans, intentions, financial condition or performance. You may identify forward-looking statements by the use of words such as "believe," "expect," "plan," "intend," "anticipate," "estimate," "predict," "potential," "may," "should," "will" or other words or expressions of similar meaning, although not all forward-looking statements contain such terms.

Forward-looking statements, including as they relate to Express Scripts or Cigna, the management of either such company, the transaction or any expected benefits of the transaction, involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ significantly from those projected or suggested in any forward-looking statements. Express Scripts and Cigna do not undertake any obligation to release publicly any revisions to such forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances occurring after the date hereof or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events. Any number of factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by any forward-looking statements, including, but not limited to, the risks associated with the following:

- the inability of Express Scripts and Cigna to obtain stockholder or regulatory approvals required for the merger or the requirement to accept conditions that could reduce the anticipated benefits of the merger as a condition to obtaining regulatory approvals;
- the possibility that the anticipated benefits from the merger (including anticipated synergies) cannot be realized in full, or at all or may take longer to realize than expected;
- a longer time than anticipated to consummate the proposed merger;
- problems regarding the successful integration of the businesses of Express Scripts and Cigna;
- unexpected costs regarding the proposed merger;
- diversion of management's attention from ongoing business operations and opportunities;
- potential litigation associated with the proposed merger;
- the ability to retain key personnel;
- the availability of financing;
- effects on the businesses as a result of uncertainty surrounding the proposed merger;
- the ability of the combined company to achieve financial, strategic and operational plans and initiatives;
- the ability of the combined company to predict and manage medical costs and price effectively and develop and maintain good relationships with physicians, hospitals and other health care providers;
- the impact of modifications to the combined company's operations and processes;
- the ability of the combined company to identify potential strategic acquisitions or transactions and realize the expected benefits of such transactions;
- the substantial level of government regulation over the combined company's business and the potential effects of new laws or regulations or changes in existing laws or regulations;

- the outcome of litigation relating to the businesses of Express Scripts and Cigna, regulatory audits, investigations, actions and/or guaranty fund assessments;
- uncertainties surrounding participation in government-sponsored programs such as Medicare;
- the effectiveness and security of the combined company's information technology and other business systems;
- unfavorable industry, economic or political conditions, including foreign currency movements;
- acts of war, terrorism, natural disasters or pandemics; and
- the industry may be subject to future risks that are described in SEC reports filed by Express Scripts and Cigna.

You should carefully consider these and other relevant factors, including those risk factors in this communication and other risks and uncertainties that affect the businesses of Express Scripts and Cigna described in their respective filings with the SEC, when reviewing any forward-looking statement. These factors are noted for investors as permitted under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Investors should understand it is impossible to predict or identify all such factors or risks. As such, you should not consider either foregoing lists, or the risks identified in SEC filings, to be a complete discussion of all potential risks or uncertainties, and should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements.
